(6) The first and second case apply whether or not there has been a right of appeal under Article 13(4) of the 1998 Order in respect of any relevant social security benefit, entitlement to which is linked to the welfare supplementary payment.

(5) Where an amount determined under sub-paragraph (3) or (4) results in a fraction of a penny, that fraction is to be disregarded if it is half a penny or less; otherwise it is to be treated as a penny.

(6) The employer remains subject to the duty under sub-paragraph (2) unless and until—

- (a) the employer is notified by the Department that the notice—
 - (i) has been varied under paragraph 9,
 - (ii) has been discharged under paragraph 10, or
 - (iii) has lapsed under paragraph 11, or
- (b) the employer considers that, as a result of deductions under this Schedule, the outstanding amount is nil.

Deduction by employer: particular cases

4.—(1) Where there is a pay-day (“the relevant pay-day”) on which the employer fails to deduct the amount required under paragraph 3, the employer must on the next available pay-day or pay-days deduct—

- (a) first, the amount required to be deducted, and
- (b) then, the amount which should have been deducted on the relevant pay-day.

(2) Where there is a pay-day (“the relevant pay-day”) on which the employer deducts less than the amount required under paragraph 3, the employer must on the next available pay-day or pay-days deduct—

- (a) first, the amount required to be deducted, and
- (b) second, the difference between the amount which was deducted, and the amount which should have been deducted, on the relevant pay-day.

(3) Where there is a pay-day (“the relevant pay-day”) on which the employer deducts more than the amount required under paragraph 3, the employer must on the next available pay-day or pay-days deduct only the amount required to be deducted less the difference between the amount which was deducted, and the amount which should have been deducted, on the relevant pay-day.

(4) Where a deduction under paragraph 3 would reduce the amount paid to the liable person below the protected earnings proportion, the employer must deduct only such amount as will result in the employer paying the liable person an amount equal to the protected earnings proportion.

(5) Where the employer makes a deduction on a pay-day in accordance with the notice under paragraph 1, the employer may also deduct an amount not exceeding £1 for administrative costs; and a deduction under this sub-paragraph may reduce the amount which the employer pays to the liable person on that pay-day below the protected earnings proportion.

Notification to liable person

5.—(1) The employer must notify the liable person in writing of—

- (a) the amount of a deduction under paragraph 3 or 4(1) to (3), and
- (b) if a deduction is made under paragraph 4(5), the amount of that deduction.

(2) A notification under this paragraph must be given no later than the pay-day on which the deduction is made or, where that is impracticable, no later than the following pay-day.

(3) The employer must, within 28 days of receiving a written request from the liable person, provide the person with an explanation in writing of how the amount of a deduction under paragraph 3 was calculated.

Payment to Department

6.—(1) Where the employer makes a deduction under paragraph 3 or 4(1) to (3), the employer must pay the amount of the deduction to the Department by the 19th day of the month following that in which the deduction is made.

(2) A payment under this paragraph may be made by cheque, direct credit transfer or such other method as the Department may permit.

(3) The employer must keep a record of each amount paid to the Department in the case of the liable person.

Information from liable person

7.—(1) The liable person, having received a notice under paragraph 1, must notify the Department within 7 days of each occasion on which the person—

- (a) leaves the employment of the employer to whom the notice is directed, or
- (b) becomes employed or re-employed.

(2) A notification under sub-paragraph (1)(b) must include—

- (a) the name and address of the employer or employers,
- (b) the amount of the liable person's earnings or expected earnings, and
- (c) the liable person's place of work, the nature of the liable person's work and any staff number, payroll number or similar identifying number.

Notification to Department

8.—(1) Where a notice under paragraph 1 is given to a person who is believed to be the liable person's employer but is in fact not, the person receiving the notice must notify the Department of that fact in writing, at the address specified in the notice, within 10 days after the day on which the notice was given.

(2) Where a person who is the liable person's employer is required to make deductions under a notice under paragraph 1 and the liable person ceases to be in that employment, the employer must notify the Department of that fact in writing, at the address specified in the notice, within 10 days after the day on which the liable person ceases to be in that employment.

Variation

9.—(1) The Department may vary a notice under paragraph 1 so as to—

- (a) decrease an amount to be deducted under paragraph 3, or
- (b) with the agreement of the liable person, increase an amount to be deducted under paragraph 3 but only to the extent that deductions of the increased amount will result in the employer paying the liable person an amount more than, or equal to, the protected earnings proportion.

(2) Where a notice under paragraph 1 is varied under this paragraph, paragraph 1 applies to the notice as varied as it applies to the original notice; and a reference in this Schedule to the notice is a reference to the notice as varied.

(3) Where a notice as varied is given under paragraph 1, the employer who is liable to make deductions under the notice must comply with the notice as varied from the day it takes effect under that paragraph.

Discharge

10.—(1) The Department must discharge a notice under paragraph 1 if the outstanding amount is paid.

(2) The Department may discharge a notice under paragraph 1 if—

- (a) it appears to the Department that the notice is defective,
- (b) it appears to the Department that the notice is ineffective or that some other method of recovering the outstanding amount would be more effective, or
- (c) the liable person agrees with the Department to pay the outstanding amount by another method.

(3) A notice may be regarded as defective for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) where—

- (a) it fails to comply with paragraph 1(2), and
- (b) that failure has made it impracticable for the employer to comply with the duties under this Schedule.

(4) Where a notice is discharged under sub-paragraph (1) or (2), the Department must give notification of the discharge to the liable person and the employer concerned.

(5) Where a notice is discharged under sub-paragraph (2)(b) or (c), paragraph 6 nevertheless continues to apply in relation to any amount not yet paid to the Department.

Lapse

11.—(1) Where the liable person's employment terminates, a notice under paragraph 1 lapses immediately after the pay-day coinciding with or following the termination.

(2) Where a notice lapses under this paragraph, paragraph 6 nevertheless continues to apply in relation to any amount not yet paid to the Department.

Crown employment

12.—(1) This paragraph applies where the liable person is employed by the Crown.

(2) The chief officer for the time being of the government department, office or other body in which the liable person is employed is to be treated as employing the liable person (any transfer of the person from one department, office or body to another being treated as a change of employment).

(3) Any earnings paid by the Crown, a minister of the Crown or a government department, or out of the public revenue of the United Kingdom or Northern Ireland, are to be treated as paid by that chief officer.

(4) "Government department" includes a department of the government of the United Kingdom.

Priority

13.—(1) This paragraph applies where there is a pay-day in relation to the liable person on which the employer is required—

- (a) to comply with two or more notices under paragraph 1, or
- (b) to comply with one or more notices under paragraph 1 and with one or more of any of the following—
 - (i) child support orders;
 - (ii) other maintenance orders;
 - (iii) welfare overpayment notices.

(2) In a case within sub-paragraph (1)(a), the employer must—

- (a) deal with each notice according to the date on which it was made, disregarding any later notice until an earlier one has been dealt with, and

(b) deal with any later notice as if the earnings to which it relates were the residue of the liable person's earnings after the making of any deduction to comply with any earlier notice.

(3) In a case within sub-paragraph (1)(b), the employer must—

- (a) first, deal with any child support order,
- (b) then, deal with any other deduction order,
- (c) then, deal with any welfare overpayment notice, and
- (d) then, deal with the notice or notices under paragraph 1.

(4) Where the employer, when acting under paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) of sub-paragraph (3), has to deal with two or more of the orders or notices referred to in that paragraph, the employer must deal with them by using the method set out in sub-paragraph (2).

(5) The employer may make deductions under this paragraph only in so far as the deductions will result in the employer paying the liable person an amount greater than or equal to the protected earnings proportion.

(6) "Child support order" means a deduction from earnings order under Part 3 of the Child Support (Collection and Enforcement) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1992(a).

(7) "Other deduction order" means an order, other than a child support order, under a statutory provision which requires deduction to be made from a person's earnings.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations make further provisions for the delivery of welfare supplementary payments. These payments are designed to mitigate impacts from implementation of the Welfare Reform (Northern Ireland) Order 2015 and the Welfare Reform and Work (Northern Ireland) Order 2016 as defined in the document “A Fresh start the Stormont Agreement and Implementation Plan”.

The Regulations provide for the recovery of amounts of welfare supplementary payments that have been paid in excess of entitlement. They also make amendments to the welfare supplementary payment regulations to provide for the impact of entitlement to a mitigation payment following a relevant change of circumstances.

Part 1 is technical and provides for commencement, interpretation and avoidance of retrospection.

Part 2 contains provisions for the recovery of welfare supplementary overpayments. In particular it establishes the circumstances in which an overpayment can be recovered including in cases of misrepresentation by a person or an error by the Department for Communities. Provision is made for the recovery of an overpayment from both the person entitled to a payment and any person to whom the payment has been made, including a landlord. Where recovery is necessary this will initially be achieved through deductions from welfare supplementary payments. Where this is not possible deductions will be made from social security benefits or a person’s earnings.

Part 3 makes amendments to welfare supplementary payments for the benefit cap by:

- aligning welfare supplementary payments with housing benefit payments;
- providing that a change of circumstances that affects entitlement will apply from the same date as the change to the housing benefit claim;
- providing for payments to be made to an agent acting on behalf of a landlord;
- terminating entitlement where a person is no longer entitled to housing benefit provided this occurs before they are affected by the new benefit cap level;
- terminating entitlement where a person is no longer affected by the benefit cap;
- making provision for entitlement to a welfare supplementary payment for the partner of a benefit claimant following the separation of a couple;
- clarifying that entitlement will not be affected by benefit sanctions;
- providing for information sharing with the Northern Ireland Housing Executive.

Part 4 makes amendments to welfare supplementary payments for contributory employment and support allowance by:

- amending the definition of limited capability for work credit to specify that it only applies to people affected by the time limiting of employment and support allowance;
- clarifying that entitlement will not be affected by benefit sanctions;
- providing that a change of circumstances that affects entitlement will apply from the same date as the change to the employment and support allowance claim;
- providing for payments to be made to an appointee acting on behalf of an entitled person;
- providing for information sharing with Her Majesty’s Revenue & Customs.

Part 5 makes amendments to welfare supplementary payments for disability-related premiums by:

- making provision for entitlement to a welfare supplementary payment for both a benefit claimant and their partner following the separation of a couple;
- amending regulation 39 to provide that payment should not cease following the outcome of an appeal hearing where a welfare supplementary payment for people with a conflict-related injury is being paid;

- providing for payments to be made to an appointee acting on behalf of an entitled person;
- clarifying that entitlement will not be affected by benefit sanctions;
- providing for information sharing with Her Majesty’s Revenue & Customs.

Part 6 makes amendments to welfare supplementary payments for the loss of carer payments by:

- introducing a priority order where there is entitlement to payment under more than one Part. This makes it clear under which Part a person should be paid;
- providing for the recalculation of entitlement under Part 2 where there has been a change in entitlement to a contributory benefit;
- providing for entitlement to cease if a caree is awarded the daily living component of personal independence payment;
- providing for payment to continue for a period of 8 weeks following the death of the carer;
- providing for payments to be made to an appointee acting on behalf of an entitled person;
- clarifying that entitlement will not be affected by benefit sanctions;
- making provision for future entitlement to a welfare supplementary payment when a person receiving payment forms a couple;
- making provision for entitlement to a welfare supplementary payment paid under Parts 3 or 5 for both a benefit claimant and their partner following the separation of a couple;
- providing for information sharing with Her Majesty’s Revenue & Customs;
- providing that where a change of circumstances, as detailed in regulations 25 to 30, occurs it will affect entitlement from the date on which the change occurs.

Part 7 makes amendments to welfare supplementary payments for the loss of disability living allowance by:

- providing that where there is a change in entitlement to personal independence payment the date the change takes effect will be the effective date for changes in entitlement to welfare supplementary payment under regulations 7, 12 and 20;
- providing for payments to be made to an appointee acting on behalf of an entitled person;
- providing that where a change of circumstances, as detailed in regulations 23 to 28, occurs it will affect entitlement from the date on which the change occurs.
